Many Stars to Shine in Junior League Revue At Broadway Theatre

Professional and Amateur Talent Will Display Talent. This Evening as Junior League Presents Second Annual Show.

A galaxy of stars, professional and amateur, is expected to shine brightly as the curtains of the Broadway Theatre part at 8:15 on the second Junior League Revue, an effort which it is promised will surpass any satisfying presentation of last year and bring new fame to the Junior League and their artist friends.

But before the footlights glow, the talent, Walter Kild, beginning at 7:30 will seal himself at the large theatre organ to play a program of Christmas songs and ring a festive welcome from the League to its friends in the audience.

So many stars will grace the firmament of this first event of the holiday season that a list of them all would be naming the bits of light that flicker in the Milky Way. Beulah "Boo" Phelps and her dances which last year brought so much credit to the 1932 revue, will again play a prominent part. Ottilia Riccoboni, who also brought solid rounds of applause a year ago, will outdo herself in new numbers. Harriet Carlton, newcomer to Kingston amateur theatricals, is expected to prove a sensation. Winifred Selden will delight the audience with a modern cake walk. Paul Yocum, another new face to Junior League Revue audiences, has trained faithfully for several numbers that will match for brilliance and difficult steps, anything that the finest artists can offer. Burton Davis will do a humorous interpretation during the "Touring Back in 1901" number. He is an amateur who is expected to be right at home in the company of his fast professional friends. Last but not least among the dancers is diminutive Marion Obenaus, who in the role of the "Swallow" will do the bidding and bring happiness to the "Happy Prince" in a too dance.

In the realm of song, the many singers will vie for acclaim as much of the cream of Kingston's musical world takes stage to do its bit and entertain with numerous kinds and methods of song that is expected to give a sweep to the affair which is likely not to be duplicated elsewhere. Among the younger singers are Ruth Morris and Donald Clarke, who in an early scene, do a typical musical comedy routine in excellent fashion. Veiling for like attention, and with a professional background, will be Miss Phelps and Leonard Stine, who offer a song and dance duet with a Dutch background, an amusing and artistic presentation. The part of the "sophisticated lady" in one of the scenes will be vocally enacted with rare charm by Mrs. Chase Crowley whose singing is expected to bring marked applause. Later on Miss Phelps will do a vocal solo against a background of dancers that may prove one of the bit scenes of the show. Leading a more tranquil number and in a delicate vein, Margaret A. Hanstein will render "Quiet Waters" against a background of "dancing" moonbeams and the "Girl in the Moon" in the Germanic number "Tones on Gray" will have for its vocalist, Alice Trowbridge, and both the singer and her fellow members are expected to bring a surprise to local audiences with something "different." Mrs. Crowley will return for the vocal interpretation of "No Clown, No Cavalier." Opening the final number will be Jacob H. Tremper, Jr., with a drinking song, which with its spirit will mark one of the most lavish of all the scenes of the revue. Mr. Stine will also have a vocal part during this number, as will Gertrude Brunner, who in the role of a "Jazz Singer" is slated to bring a "hot" number. The grand climax of the vocalizing of the evening will offer itself in the person of Robert Hawksley who will render "The Road is Open Again." Mr. Hawksley has been in good voice, during all of the practices, which presages a stirring rendition to close the singers' part of the program.

Almost every chorus will take part in the songs, but for group singing the choral work of the Twitville Choral Society, a group that won undying fame last year, will bring that old favorite "Horsie, Keep Your Tail Up" in such characteristic fashion, that the audience will be a "little hoarse" from laughter after the scene. Soloists for this number will be Mrs. Esther Fessenden, Clyde Wonderly and Mr. Stine. The commanding direction of Mr. Hawksley will add to the evening's merriment, as will the "pointing" of Mrs. Jacob H. Tremper, Jr., and the "touch" of Mr. Kild at the organ.

In the role of legitimate actors a great variety of old and new favorites will appear for the skits, including Mrs. Hanstein, Mr. Tremper, Mrs. Fessenden, Miss Brunner, Mrs. H. L. Bibby, Miss Isabel Brigham, G. V. D. Hutton, Mrs. G. V. D. Hutton, Henry Brigham, Charles Arnold.

The part of the reader in the "Happy Prince" scene is well handled by Mrs. Bibby, who also enacts the role of "Madam" in "What the Well Dressed Man Will Wear."

All in all, some 70 local people will be present to assure success and a variety of scenes and situations that cannot fail to make even the most critical person happy. There will be such a different type of thing for every scene and skit that no one will be disappointed.

The entire program as directed by John Hall of The John B. Roger Pro-

Winter Plays Mean Trick On Automobiles And Pedestrians

Sleet and Ice Form on Sidewalk and Pavements During Morning. Making Travel Almost Impossible—No Serious Accidents Reported—Warmer Weather Expected to Alleviate Situation.

Everyone in Kingston had a common interest this morning, when old man winter rained sleet out of the heavens which turned to ice as soon as it hit the ground. Pedestrian and motorist met like difficulties as they slid from one place to another, tire chains seemed of little use, and rubbers failed to halt the skids of uncertain feet.

As is often the case at such times, there were a number of minor accidents, mostly of a humorous nature as men's feet failed in their duty and betrayed their owners, often in front of onlookers trying hard to negotiate the glassy sidewalks. Cars also bumped one another, but most of them traveled with a maximum of caution and none of the many little accidents resulted in serious injury to man or machine.

Hills in the city were barriers to the most stubborn drivers until the board of public works came to the aid of stricken motorists and sand was applied to help the stranded cars. Broadway several times appeared a true setting for a motion picture news shot with cars skidding this way and that, sometimes bunched together where the pavement tilted to one curb or the other, and trucks without chains were as helpless as babes in the woods.

Fewer people appeared on the streets than usual and there was a noted absence of motor traffic, except for the city busses which were loaded with passengers. However, business was brisk uptown and many of the stores reported a good showing of customers, who had braved the elements to finish their Christmas shopping.

Toward noon many of the sidewalks were salted, ashed or sanded, so that the going became easier. The streets, under the traffic once more took on a normal appearance as the ice softened beneath the wheels of the cars and the episode of ice became a memory.

More rain and possibly snow was predicted this evening and tomorrow morning with a slightly rising temperature for this region on Thursday. At noon the temperature of The Freeman thermometer registered 35 degrees, the ice was melting and if the weather holds the rain will soon wash away the last vestiges of ice and snow. Should the temperature drop a few degrees a duplicate of this morning's scene is likely to come.

Seattle Storm Havoc Worse With New Gale

50 Barns Down in Rich Dairy Section—Railroad Buried Under British Columbia Rock Slide—Temperatures are Falling.

Seattle, Dec. 20 (AP)—Storm damage mounted today as the latest of a series of winter gales battered the Pacific northwest for the fourth successive day. The loss of life was set at three.

With communication restored to Tillamook, rich dairy district near the Oregon coast, reports came of power lines down, 50 barns wrecked, herds of cattle scattered and possibly drowned, and rich farms under water.

The almost unprecedented high tides, driven ashore by the gales, brought large losses at Astoria, Ore. The dredge Clackamas was torn from its moorings and badly damaged.

To the north in British Columbia, a mud and rock slide 50 to 75 feet deep and 1,000 feet long last night tumbled up the Canadian Pacific Kootenay Lake Line. At Vancouver, B. C., thousands of acres of lowland on the southern edge of the city were flooded when the highest tide of the year broke through dikes on the Fraser river yesterday in four places.

Seek Arthur Hopkins For Back Income Taxes

Man Being Sued for Divorce by Doris Kenyon Said to be in Arizona—$47,398.10—Has Estate in Cazenovia.

Syracuse, N. Y., Dec. 20 (AP)—Arthur Hopkins, against whom Doris Kenyon, actress and widow of Milton Sills, filed divorce proceedings in California October 28, was the object of a hunt by internal revenue agents today following filing of a lien for $47,398.10 in back income taxes.

Field agents of the office of Frank J. Shaughnessy, federal collector of internal revenue in the Syracuse district, took up the search soon after he fled the lien with the Onondaga county clerk yesterday. It was revealed a year's check had been made of Hopkins' financial status. This required investigation at Chicago, New York, Cleveland and other cities before the lien order was issued by Guy T. Helvering, revenue commissioner.

The government claims Hopkins owes $24,665.90 in income tax for the 11 years between 1921 and 1932. Interest of $4,815.78; plus 25 percent penalties of $6,166.50, and 50 percent penalties of $11,746.92 between 1924 and 1932.

Hopkins, who has a home at Cazenovia, where Hervey Allen wrote his now famous "Anthony Adverse" married Miss Kenyon at her Beverly Hills, Calif., estate on June 14, this year. Her suit for divorce followed four months later on the grounds of incompatibility.

Gets Part of His Loss. George McDonough, who advertised in Tuesday's Freeman the loss of a wallet containing checks and cash to the amount of nearly $62, along with papers, has recovered part of his loss. The finder was considered enough to mail the checks to the Kingston Trust Co. Tuesday evening. The cash and papers, however, are still missing.

Commissary Gianvetti of the French police made the haul of paraphernalia and said that he found in addition that one of the prisoners, Louis Martin, 42, a Frenchman and translator in the ministry of marine, had an account in a Frankfurt, Germany, bank.

Martin fainted when the police broke into his home after coming from the apartment of Madame Lidia Tchekalov, Stahl, 48, a Russian teacher whom they also arrested.

At Madame Stahl's home the police seized books, documents and photographic plates.

At Martin's home the gendarmes took two envelopes which they said contained 15,549 and 12,066 francs respectively.

They said they found another suspect, Mlle. Madeleine, 22, French and a teacher, ready for flight when they raided her home and arrested her. It was there, they

Washington, Dec. 20 (AP)—Funeral services for Representative James S. Parker, member of the House for 20 years who died at his residence here last night, will be conducted at 4:00 o'clock this afternoon at his home.

Prayers will be recited by the Rev. Dr. James S. Montgomery, chaplain of the House of Representatives. Burial will take place at Salem, N. Y., Friday at 1:00 p. m.

Mrs. Parker, who was with her husband when he died, will accompany the body back to New York.

Representative Parker had no children. His first wife, the former Marion Williams of Salem, died in 1923. Later Mr. Parker married Mrs. Amy G. Richards, widow of James G. Richards of New York.

Mr. Parker was chairman of the committee on interstate and foreign commerce while the Republicans were in control of the House. When the Democrats gained control he remained on the committee as ranking member.

Old Guard Republican His death removes a staunch member of the Old Guard wing of the Republican party in New York state politics. He was a close friend and advisor to Representative James W. Wadsworth, Jr., formerly senior United States Senator from New York. His advice also was often sought by Representative Bertrand H. Snell of New York, Republican leader in the House, State Senator George R. Fearon, Republican whip in the New York legislature and Speaker Joseph A. McGinnies of the New York Assembly.

Parker, who was 66 years old, died last night of a paralytic stroke, which he suffered last Wednesday. He was born in Great Barrington, Mass., June 3, 1867, and studied at Cornell University for two years. He was appointed a master at St. Paul's School, Concord, Mass. In 1898 he moved to Salem, N. Y., and became a farmer. He has lived there since in an old colonial house.

Lindberghs at Home, Talk Is Heard About Summer Arctic Trip

In Five Months the Flying Couple Visited 21 Countries, Covered 20,000 Miles in All Kinds of Weather—He Joins Son Jon.

New York, Dec. 20 (AP)—The flying Lindberghs have come home to their baby.

And now Anna Lindbergh won't have to wireless signals and study navigation charts. She can listen, instead, to the baby words her 16-month-old son Jon has learned in the five months she and her noted husband, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, were flying over a large part of the world.

When the Lindberghs started on their aerial voyage of discovery last July, Baby Jon could only laugh and gurgle. Now he knows words like "Mummy" and "Daddy."

The first thing the Lindberghs have to do is to get ready for Christmas. They brought little back with them when they ended their flight yesterday. In fact, all they carried off their plane were two knapsacks of personal effects they had with them on the last 10,000 miles of the trip. So they'll have to do some hurried giftbuying and other preparations for the Yuletide.

And if little Jon Lindbergh could understand what it's all about, his parents would have a plentiful supply of stories to tell about their journey.

They visited thirty-one countries or possessions and covered approximately 20,000 miles, or an area covering roughly one quarter of the earth.

They flew through all kinds of weather, from the cold and fog of Labrador and Greenland to the blistering heat of the African coast. In Europe they went as far as Moscow and in South America they penetrated the continent as far as Manaus, a thousand miles up the Amazon. And they met the most interesting people.

The flight ended yesterday with a hop from Charleston, S. C., where they stayed one night on their journey up the Atlantic coast. Col. Lindbergh brought his low-winged monoplane down at College Point, Queens, after first flying over the home of Mrs. Dwight W. Morrow, mother of Mrs. Lindbergh, in Englewood, N. J., where the Lindbergh baby has been living.

Col. Lindbergh made his latest flight principally to make a survey for the establishment of commercial aviation lines and to present the results of the trip shortly to Pan American Airways, for whom he conducted the survey.

It was reported that next summer Col. Lindbergh will probably make another trip into the Arctic.

Physicians Marvel At BAILEY'S IMPROVEMENT Boston, Dec. 20 (AP)—Medical science stood by in wonderment today as Irving (Ace) Bailey continued to show improvement they didn't believe possible.

Little more than 24 hours ago physicians at the Boston City Hospital believed he had but a short time to live. This morning, the Toronto Hockey player's condition had improved. Improvement was slight, but enough to give hope for his ultimate recovery.

Dr. Joseph Hahn, attending physician, reported Bailey "about the same, if anything a little better" in a bulletin issued at one o'clock this morning.

The hockey player received a fractured skull during the Maple Leafs-Boston Bruins game at Boston Garden a week ago last night.

J. L. Livermore, Stock Market Operator, Believed Kidnaped

Department of Justice Orders Its Agents To Enter the Case in Cooperation With New York Police—No Trace of Him Since 3 P. M. Yesterday—Had a Spectacular Career in Wall Street.

New York, Dec. 20 (AP)—Jesse L. Livermore, wealthy stock market operator, was missing today under circumstances that led his wife to tell authorities she believed him kidnaped.

There has been no trace since 3 p. m. yesterday of the man whose spectacular operations in Wall Street years ago earned him the title of "the boy plunger."

The department of justice today ordered its agents in the Bureau of Investigation, which handles kidnapping cases under the federal law, to enter the case in cooperation with New York police.

Mrs. Livermore, distraught and waiting for some word at her Park avenue home, first communicated with police last midnight to tell them she thought her husband had been kidnaped.

Livermore's invariable custom, she said, was to telephone her regularly when he was away from home.

She last heard from him, she said, when he left their apartment at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon upon his return home from his office.

Police checked without success various hospitals and hotels, and sought to question friends who might ordinarily have met him at his favorite haunts.

At the Livermore apartment, the butler informed callers that Mrs. Livermore was resting and waiting for some word that might give a clue to her husband's whereabouts. The main entrance to the apartment building was locked, and only residents and persons proving they had legitimate business were admitted.

Livermore was seen yesterday in the financial district as was customary. One of the partners of Pearl & Co., which has handled much of his brokerage business, said he had an account with them and had been in yesterday on one of his regular visits. Brokers were mystified by his disappearance.

Livermore has no exchange connections and in the past has directed his extensive operations from his own office.

Livermore, who is 56 years old, was married in March of this year to Mrs. Harriet Metz Noble of Omaha, Neb. His first wife, Mrs. Dorothea F. Livermore, obtained a divorce in Reno in September, 1932.

Livermore has had a spectacular career in Wall Street and has been reported as having made millions of dollars in various transactions in stocks and grain.

In May, 1927, Livermore and several guests were robbed of jewels and cash estimated at $100,000 by two "gentlemen" burglars.

Arthur Barry, notorious jewel thief, later confessed he took part in the robbery and implicated James "Boston Billy" Monahan.

Governor Sung said in his telegram that a body of Manchukuo troops had revolted and fled toward Chahar, causing loyal Manchukuo troops and Japanese to pursue them.

But while the grandparents were away from home, a tragedy occurred and took a toll. A young girl, Mary, was killed.

Pomona Grange Held Biennial Election at Meeting on Friday

Unusually Amused Completed "Patrons' Home" For Attendance Record—Harold V. Story Re-elected Master—Delegates to State Grange.

New Paltz, Dec. 20.—The regular biennial election of Ulster County Pomona Grange was held in the New Paltz Grange hall on Friday, Dec. 19. Master Harold V. Story presided and the meeting was opened in singing the "Welcome Song" to the "Patrons."

Several committees were appointed as follows: Committee on applications, Brother Everett; Sister Schneider and Brother Kieffer; committee on resolutions, Brother Jansen, Sister Scott and Brother Bloom; finance committee, Sisters Kieffer and Bell and Brother Cover. As no members of the legislation committee were absent, Brothers Weaver and Kieffer were appointed to act on that committee with Brother Jansen.

Brother I. C. Barnes, as chairman of the fair committee, said that the Ulster county fair would not doubt be continued. A full report will be made later as a conference will be held the latter part of February to discuss the county fair. Brother Weaver said Dutchess county has one of the best county fairs and added that agricultural fairs were an asset to any county. It was suggested that each Grange write to the assemblyman so that the appropriation for county fairs may not be reduced.

The members of the "Boast-Ulster-County-for-State-Grange in 1935" committee reported visits were made to the various neighboring Pomona Grange meetings.

Ulster county Pomona Grange carried a motion that they give up the idea of having State Grange in Kingston in 1935 in favor of Orange county.

Miss Evelyn Nance, Home Bureau manager of Ulster county, spoke of the inter-county dramatic contest on November 25 at which a group from Columbia county won first place. She told of the work the Home Bureau is doing and how it helps the homemaker make the home safer by preventing and removing causes of accidents. She also spoke of the recreation school held at Lake Katrine Grange hall in November, and expressed the need and desire of being able to sing and play together. She told of the housing project taught by the Home Bureau, saying that over 200 homes had been improved in the county by this project. She thanked the Grange for its kindly feeling toward and its cooperation with the Home Bureau.

Worthy Deputy J. Wells Weaver, gave a splendid report of the year's work. He said he was sorry that Ulster county did not show a net gain in membership to September 20, although the gain in membership since that time has more than made up for the few lost. He said all Granges were working together in harmony and hoped for a bigger and better year in 1934. He urged thoughtful and careful planning for 1934, and that the masters of subordinate Granges call a meeting of the officers early in the year and plan the work for the year.

The following fourth degree members were obligated by the worthy master in the fifth degree: Theresa M. Mack of Homewick, Herbert Gallaway of Highland, Helen A. Wood and Harold L. Wood of Huguenot, Henrietta Villhelm of Ulster Park and A. Jeanette Cocklin of Rosendale.

The county bread baking contest was held in charge of the Pomona service and hospitality committee. Sister Everett, chairman, Sister Birdsell of Plattkill won first prize for her bread. Sister Villhelm of Ulster Park was second and Sister Dressel of Huguenot, third. The first prize winner competes at State Grange for a prize of $25.

Sister Ethel Jenkins the worthy lecturer of Pomona, gave an excellent report of her work for the year and thanked all the granges and their lecturers for their splendid cooperation.

A letter of cheer was sent to Brother and Sister Polhemus, who met with an accident recently. A letter of sympathy was sent to the family of the late Perry Buckmaster and a resolution was spread on the minutes.

The following resolutions were adopted: First, to the effect that petition be made to State Grange to change pheasant hunting season from October to November, since the sport endangers fruit pickers; secondly, to the effect that, since the Grange has always stood for temperance and sobriety, all future efforts will be made to control the organized liquor traffic; thirdly, to the effect that, since banks have lowered interest on savings that the Grange favor a reduction of rates charged for loans.

An appropriation of $30 was made for the service and hospitality committee for its work for 1935. Sister Wilhelmina Schupp of Homewick Grange was appointed a new member of the committee.

Sister Beatrice Everett, chairman of the service and hospitality committee reported excellent work done by the subordinate Grange committees. Seven Granges held bread baking contests and competed in the Pomona Contest. Collections for the revolving scholarship fund amounted to more than $150.

Members of Ulster Park Grange brought the patrons home to the Pomona Grange for the final ceremony at which time the roof was placed on the logs which represented all the Granges in the county. The collection for the scholarship fund was $8.26. During the ceremony Brothers Everett, Wood and Clark and Sister Hooker sang "While We Go Marching On" and "Let Us Build the Patrons' Home." Asbury Grange was presented with the completed "Patrons' Home" at the close of the meeting for having had the highest average attendance at the two meetings each Grange attended.

The biennial election of officers took place during the afternoon session. Brother Euse Oberholtz and Sister Hooker and Brothers Elliott and Cover were appointed tellers.

The following officers were elected: Master Harold V. Story; overseer, A. Kenneth Taylor; lecturer, Ethel Jenkins; steward, Albert Kurdt; assistant steward, Charles Everett; chaplain, David Kieffer; treasurer, J. Harold Clark; secretary, Mary B. Block; gate keeper, Jacob Schneider; Flora Blanche Cotton; Pomona, Mary McCormick; Ceres, Mary Bell; member of executive committee, Henry McCormick.

New York State Grange will meet at Lake Katrine in February. The delegates elected were Brother Harold Story of Ulster Park, delegate-at-large, Sister Mollie Baxter of Rosendale, Brother Harold L. Wood of Huguenot, Sister William Harcourt of Clintonville, Brother Leroy Styles of Stone Ridge, Sister Frances Lane of Mt. Tremper and Brother George Sale of Asbury.

It was voted to send the chairman of Pomona service and hospitality committee to State Grange each year and also the Pomona lecturer. Sister LeMar of Rosendale was reported severely injured in an automobile accident.

The March meeting of Pomona Grange will be held at Lake Katrine Grange hall on Friday, March 2. This will be an afternoon and evening meeting with a public installation of officers in the evening. The June meeting will be held at Stone Ridge Grange, the September meeting at Highland Grange, and the December meeting at Homewick Grange.

The homestead bread was auctioned off by Brother Kurdt and the sum of $4.12 was added to the scholarship fund.

Beauty Shops Will Be Open Evenings

Ulster County Hairdressers' Association members will keep their shops open evenings by appointment until January 1, 1934. Regulations of hours have been arranged to comply with the NRA requirements. This arrangement was made to accommodate patrons over the busy holiday season.

KRIEPLERBUSH

Krieplerbush, Dec. 20.—Christmas exercises and a pageant, "He Came To Bethlehem" will be given in the church Sunday evening, December 24, at 8 o'clock. Santa Claus will arrive at the conclusion of the exercises to distribute gifts and candy. The public is most cordially invited.

Harry Shea and sister, Mrs. Mary E. Smith, have been spending a few days in the city.

Mrs. L. M. Woods and son, James, spent Monday in Kingston. There will be no Sunday school for Christmas services until December 24, at 8 o'clock.

Harvey Connor, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Van Demark and Miss T. Davis spent Monday in Kingston. The Public School will have Christmas exercises and tree lighting afternoon, December 22.

County Road Work.

Shokan, Dec. 20.—Work on the county road project near Shokan is now in progress at the Jerry Phillips place where the bank is being dug away. The Towne Mountain road has been a tough proposition for motorists for years and its permanent improvement will be welcomed by every one who has occasion to drive that way. The view of the river from this highway is considered at several points. Part of the old road will probably still be another picturesque "short drive" around the block for residents of the twin villages.

The Vanishing Horse.

Shokan, Dec. 20.—Local horse fanciers who have attended the auction sales in Kingston recently say that horses are bringing good prices. Less than a score of horses are now kept in Shokan, and these are seldom seen on the state road.

Card of Thanks

The family of Thomas J. Welch wishes to express their sincere thanks to our many friends and neighbors during the illness and death of our beloved father, Thomas J. Welch.

FORBIDDEN VALLEY

by William Byron Mowery

Chapter 33

THE DEPARTURE

AFTER LeNoir had gone to sleep, the cabin was left in a state of confusion. The men who had been with him were now scattered about the cabin, some sitting on the floor, some on the benches, and some on the tables.

He could hardly get his mind to rest. He was thinking of the girl who had been with him, and of the things that had happened to her. He was thinking of the things that had happened to her, and of the things that had happened to her.

In the course of his dealings with her, he had learned that she was a girl of great intelligence and of great courage. He had learned that she was a girl of great intelligence and of great courage. He had learned that she was a girl of great intelligence and of great courage.

He believed he understood those six weeks. He believed he understood those six weeks. He believed he understood those six weeks. He believed he understood those six weeks. He believed he understood those six weeks.

A mile down the lake shore he came to a small cove, screened by sweeping pines—a beautiful little retreat with its tinkle of water and scent of cloudberry blossoms. Leaning against a lichen rock, he watched a pair of Harlequin ducks tinkle and feed in the shallows.

He knew now that they were not prospectors, whatever else they might be. Gold hunters would hardly have disregarded that warning at the pass; and after that night attack they would certainly have got out of the country as fast as a canoe could take them.

To judge by LeNoir's account they were a pair of competent devils. A small voice whispered that this Ralston was one of those damnable mounties, who had struck his trail somehow and was sticking to it like a human bloodhound.

It put him in a dilemma. He was in danger and ought to escape. Though LeNoir had thirty-some men now and stood every chance in the world of wiping that party out, still something might slip up and those two might bore on through to his refuge. By all the rules of caution he ought to go.

But to leave just when Sonya Volkov was on the way to him and he had the prospects of having her there during the soft summer months. For once he could not make a clean-cut decision.

Suppose, he reasoned, that he let LeNoir go south with the main band of Kioshees and spring his attack. LeNoir could send back runners and keep him constantly informed of what was happening. If Ralston was killed and all danger from him was ended with the bang of snuff, well and good; he would stay there and wait for Sonya.

But if Ralston was not killed, he would escape. There would still be time. That plane in the hangar was an ace up the sleeve. It gave one an almost magical power of vanishing.

It bothered him more than a little to think that he might have to leave Sonya in the lurch, so helpless, so far back in those appalling mountains. But he had long since passed the point of allowing any scruples to stop him, or any dalliance, however pleasant, to endanger him. His own safety came first.

On his return he stopped at the hangar and looked over the plane carefully. It needed a bit of work—frayed control leads to replace, fouled plugs to scrape, a few trifling adjustments to be made; but in general it had come through the winter in fair shape. He checked the gas again to reassure himself.

The wing tanks showed fifty-four gallons, with six more in the emergency tanks. The fuel was good.

He looked at his watch. It was ten o'clock. He had time to spare. He had time to spare. He had time to spare. He had time to spare. He had time to spare.

He looked at his watch. It was ten o'clock. He had time to spare. He had time to spare. He had time to spare. He had time to spare. He had time to spare.

He looked at his watch. It was ten o'clock. He had time to spare. He had time to spare. He had time to spare. He had time to spare. He had time to spare.

He looked at his watch. It was ten o'clock. He had time to spare. He had time to spare. He had time to spare. He had time to spare. He had time to spare.

He looked at his watch. It was ten o'clock. He had time to spare. He had time to spare. He had time to spare. He had time to spare. He had time to spare.

down from the mythology of Thebes. Antiope, after being carried back in disgrace from her runaway marriage to a foreign king, was jealously tormented and imprisoned by Dirce, Queen of Thebes. Amphion and Zethus, Antiope's sons who had been brought up by a herdsman, finally discovered their mother's plight. In revenge they turned upon Dirce and brought about her death by tying her to the horns of a wild young bull, the very punishment that Dirce had planned for Antiope!

News from the World on Wheels

National Automobile Chamber of Commerce figures are quoted for General Motors Silver Anniversary showing that of the world's 33,602,839 motor vehicles, only 9,465,960 are registered outside the United States. With 24,136,879 cars registered last year, the United States had a ratio of one for every five persons. The least motorized country is Liberia, with fifty-three automobiles registered, one for every 28,301 persons. Second in cars per population is Hawaii, followed by New Zealand, with seven and eight persons per automobile respectively.

Two new Lincoln motor cars, both powered by a single 150 horse power 12-cylinder V-type engine, are presented for 1934 by the Lincoln Motor Company. The announcement culminates a year of outstanding achievement for Lincoln both in sales and engineering. During this period Lincoln prominence in the fine-car field has been even more firmly established, while the development of the 12-cylinder V-type engine has been brought to such a point that decision to standardize upon this single engine design for both new Lincoln one body types are listed in the new Lincoln series—eight standard types on the 136-inch wheelbase chassis, three standards and ten custom body types on the 145-inch wheelbase chassis. The custom types are the creation of five world-famous master coach makers, Brunner, Judkins, Willoughby, Dietrich and LeBaron.

Marking the 30th year of Buick's progress in fine car building, the 1934 lines once again present entirely new and still more desirable features. Nineteen individual models with sleek stream lines in bodies and fenders and with every luxury and convenience found in custom-built motor cars, make up the current offerings. There are three series—differentiated by length of wheel base and engine power. Inside and out from every mechanical standpoint, every car in the lines has identical qualities of unusually handsome appearance, and engineering advances that include revolutionary developments of riding ease, operation and control. Riding comfort has been given new standards by the 1934 Buick and these are attained by the pioneer work done in America by Buick engineers in developing "Knee Action" front wheels, the result of independent front wheel suspension.

Unemployed of Gardena, Cal., enjoyed a dinner of baby lobsters and abalones when a judge ordered 650 pounds of the delicacies, confiscated by the game department, distributed to the jobless.

Dec. 20, 1913—Arthur Ellsworth and Edward Denike escaped from the county jail where they were serving sentences for stealing chickens, but were later captured by Policemen Ryan.

Mrs. Richard Gibbons died on Sycamore street.

Valentine Freer died in Port Ewen.

Dec. 20, 1933—Water board decided to raise Cooper's Lake dam six feet, increasing water storage to 675,000,000 gallons.

Two family houses on Lindsey avenue occupied by the families of John Rockefeller and James Lee, Jr., damaged by an early morning fire.

Filtration plant for the V. M. C. A. swimming pool was received.

County Poultrymen Hold a Discussion

Another large meeting of the Ulster County Poultry Club was held at the court house in Kingston on Tuesday evening, with Prof. R. C. Ogle of the poultry department at Cornell, as guest speaker. Previous to this meeting, the directors met at the Advance Restaurant, with Assemblyman J. Edward Conway to discuss the proposed appropriation to inaugurate a disease research program at the New York State Veterinary College. As diseases are one of the most serious problems facing poultrymen, Mr. Conway was asked to support this measure. C. H. Weidner, president of the club, was in charge of both meetings.

Prof. Ogle discussed the "Poultry Outlook" for the coming year but the immediate future looked rather gloomy with the prospects rising feed prices and still lower egg prices. He stressed the importance of buying high quality chicks; preferably from local sources; the need for securing higher production per hen by careful management and disease control, careful culling and greater economy in the use of feed. He urged that those who are in the poultry business follow these practices and produce eggs as cheaply as possible for the next eight or ten months. He felt that higher feed prices would cause many to raise less chicks and perhaps feed less to the birds they have. This would reduce the supply of fresh eggs and cause prices to rise. He also urged more careful grading and packing to create a still greater demand for local eggs. The Farm Bureau made arrangements to have Prof. Ogle speak at the club meeting.

A. P. Kaplan, president of the Egg Auction, was asked to give a report on the auction. He pointed out, among other things, that the rapid increase in the volume of eggs to the auction two weeks ago caused a serious setback in prices. He urged steady shipping with a gradual increase in volume. This would enable the supply to keep in line with the demand.

A committee was appointed consisting of A. P. Kaplan, John Miller, Claude Kieffer and C. H. Weidner to look into the possibility of securing an egg laying contest in eastern New York state.

The above prices compare very favorably for the following top prices in New York city on Tuesday: Large, 24c; mediums, 22c; pullets, 20c.

EDINBURGH "U" HAS ITS 350TH BIRTHDAY

Institution Has Long List of Famous Graduates.

Washington, D. C.—Edinburgh university has just celebrated its three hundred and fiftieth birthday, with bannings from "all the heads where the flag of learning fly." There was little academic stiffness or formality about the occasion. Sir James Barrie, the chamberlain, affectionately referred to the world-famous school as "Grand-mamma," and predicted that during the next 250 years "the rock of the rough world must still be her throne."

"While it is the most conspicuous of British universities, three hundred and fifty-year-old Edinburgh is considered a youngster, even among Scottish institutions of higher learning," says a bulletin from the National Geographic society. "St. Andrew's Glasgow, and Aberdeen universities all date from the fifteenth century, whereas Edinburgh was not founded until the latter part of the sixteenth century."

Many Noted Students

"Although Edinburgh may be a 'youngster' according to the European point of view, its list of noted students and professors is a long and proud one. The student roll includes giants of English literature, such as Scott, Carlyle, Stevenson, Boswell, Sir Isaac Newton, and Sir James Barrie. On the roster, too, are notables in many other fields: Alexander Graham Bell, inventor of the telephone; Darwin, the scientist; Hutton, the geologist; Hume, the philosopher and historian; and Sir Charles Bell, father of the science of anatomy. Among its scores of famous professors the names of Joseph Lister, founder of antiseptic surgery, and Sir James Simpson, discoverer of the medical uses of chloroform, stand out."

"Edinburgh was one of the earliest schools of higher learning founded by a city. In 1583 the town council of Edinburgh decided that the capital of Scotland should also have a university, and appointed Robert Rollock to teach a little class, which was the nucleus of the present great institution. At first it was known as 'Tounis college,' or 'Tounis college.' When King James I visited Scotland in 1617 he was so deeply impressed with the work of the school that he decided to become its patron. The name of the college was accordingly changed to 'King's college,' or 'College of King James.' But James, by a characteristic lapse of memory, forgot to endow it."

"The main building of the present college was started by Lord Napier, Grand Master Mason of Scotland, in 1789. The old partnership between town and gown ended in 1868, but a joint body, known as curators of patronage, still appoints a score of professors and has a voice in the selection of a dozen others."

Three Groups of Buildings

"Edinburgh has no 'campus' in the American sense of the word. The arts college, a massive structure in the classic style, broods over South Bridge street in the Old Town. The foundations of the structure date from 1789, but the conspicuous dome, surmounted by 'Youth upholding the torch of Knowledge,' was added in 1882. Within the 'Old Quad' is a brass plate, containing the names of nearly 1,000 alumni dead of the world war."

"A little farther south, near the Meadows, stand the newer university buildings, an imposing academic group including the medical college, McEwan hall, the chemistry and science college, the student's union, and the music building. A third group, the King's buildings, containing scientific laboratories, is near Blackford's hill (the viewpoint so romantically described in Scott's 'Marmion')."

"While Edinburgh possesses six faculties—divinity, law, medicine, arts, science and music—it is most noted for its medical schools and clinics. At present more than 4,000 students are registered at the university, of whom about 1,200 are women. Edinburgh was one of the first universities in the world to admit women to classes and degrees. Three hostels for women students were built by the university in 1916."

"Among scholars, the university's ancient library is as noted as the school itself. The library, in fact, is older than the university, having been founded independently in 1580 by Clement Little. It now contains more than 300,000 volumes and 8,000 manuscripts, many of the latter very rare. Special collections of Shakespeare, Boswell, Parnass, Arabic, Greek and Celtic references attract research students and historians. In the several museums connected with the university are exhibits of medicinal, food, natural science, and historical objects."

"In common with other Scottish universities the University of Edinburgh has been benefited by the grants of the Carnegie Trust, founded by the Scottish-American steel magnate, Andrew Carnegie. Edinburgh and the three other Scottish universities send together three members to the British parliament."

Seek Supply of Coal for City Needy

Application has been made to the Temporary Emergency Relief Commission in New York city for a supply of coal to be distributed among the needy in Kingston. Peter J. Mallory, superintendent of the city's home, says that a joint session of the members of the public welfare board and the coal dealers of the city was held recently to consider the matter and they are hopeful that Kingston may be granted an allotment by the federal government. The welfare commissioners are at the present time expending a considerable sum for the purpose of coal for distribution, in addition to the wood that is being distributed and a federal allotment would be a considerable relief to the city on the city's resources.

AGRICULTURE

February 12 to 17 is farm and home week at Cornell University.

On December 13, New York state bureau membership for 1934 totaled 22,512.

Uncle Ab says that this is a time when the gift should most truly be a part of the giver.

Peonies require a temperature that does not fall below 65 degrees Fahrenheit. While the plants are blooming, the soil should be kept quite moist.

The leading states in poultry production are Iowa, Missouri, California and Texas, in that order. California, Iowa, Missouri, Pennsylvania and Ohio lead in the value of eggs sold.

Home-owners who have elms on their grounds can help in the control of the Dutch elm disease by having their trees pruned to remove all dead or weak limbs. It is in such limbs that the European elm bark beetle, carrier of the disease, passes the winter.

Copies of the New York state 1934 agricultural outlook, which has been prepared by the department of agricultural economics and farm management of the state college of agriculture at Ithaca, are sent on request from the office of publication. Ask for E-277.

By QUINTON JAMES

The first new stamp of 1934 has made its appearance. It comes from Sweden and carries in a prominent place the figures 1884 and 1934.

These are the years marked by the beginning and the fiftieth anniversary of the postal savings institute of Sweden, of which the stamp is commemorative. Its color is green. It is a vertical rectangle and was designed by Einar Forseth, artist. The stamp, valued at five ore, went on sale in December.

Another From Poland

Poland is augmenting its regular issue of 1932 by inserting a 15-groszy stamp. The design is the same as the other five values in this issue, based on the country's coat of arms. The color is lilac brown.

From Here And There

An announcement from the post office department says that December 6 was the last date for which covers bearing the new Byrd stamps were receivable at Washington in time to get to Little America for a return with the first cancellation of the post office there. Hereafter all covers received will bear the second cancellation.

Just announced is the discovery of additions to the U. S. envelope stamps of 1907, known as the oval type. They are two more five-centers, one on blue paper and the other on oriental buff.

Uruguay is preparing a set of commemoratives in honor of the seventh Pan-American conference at Montevideo. The shape will be triangular, and the design consists of a map of the three Americas. The six values will range from 3 to 36 centesimos.

SALVATION ARMY WILL HOLD MEMORIAL SERVICE SUNDAY

A special service will be conducted at the Salvation Army auditorium on Sunday evening, December 24, at 8 p. m. It will take the form of a memorial service to the late Stella Sickles. Her many friends of the city are invited to attend.

Christmas Entertainment

At The Theatres

Today

Kingston: "Take a Chance" A favorite of the legitimate stage not so long ago, this gay and vivacious musical comedy turns out to be a certain kind of what seems to be the movie version. James Dunn, formerly cast in straight romantic leads, proves to be an engaging musical crooner, and with the aid of June Knight, Cliff Edwards, Buddy Rogers, Dorothy Lee, Lillian Bush, Lona Andre, Lillian Bond, a sparkling and youthful chorus of 100 girls, snappy songs and dance routines, this talkie is as good as the best of the stories of back stage life that are proving so popular today. The plot concerns a couple of crooks who want to have a girl friend of theirs make good on Broadway, and who go to great lengths to see that their plans aren't frustrated. Good fun for those who enjoy musical comedy, mixed with comedy and above average acting. Orpheum: "Her Bodyguard" and "The Rebel". Edmund Lowe and Wynne Gibson make a swell team in this story of a lady who felt the need of male protection, and who hired a tough gentleman to look after her safety. "The Rebel" is a story of the Napoleonic period, beautifully photographed against the background of the Alps mountains, and nicely played by a foreign cast, with Vilma Banky in the starring role.

Broadway: "Junior League Revue" A cast of 70 people, all local talent, under the direction of John Hall, offering one of the most elaborate and colorful stage presentations ever seen in a Kingston theatre. Twenty scenes, and a program that runs the gamut of pageantry, comedy, song, and dancing, brings to light some of the finest local talent ever offered a Kingston audience. Skillful chorus routines by local high school and Junior League girls, songs and solo dances by such brilliant performers as "Boo" Phelps, Paul Yocan, Leonard Stine, Mrs. Allan Hanstman, Mrs. Chase Crowley, Harriet Carlton, Otilia Riccoboni, Robert Hawkey, Winifred Solen and the famed "Twittrill Chor." All help to make this show successful and enjoyable entertainment. Unusual scenic effects and costumes, coupled with tuneful songs and clever skits, combine to make this musical comedy presentation something to see.

Tomorrow

Kingston: Same. Orpheum: "Wild Girl" and "The Eleventh Commandment." Charles Farrell and Joan Bennett, teamed together for the first time, work industriously in this first talkie that concerns the west and a certain young lady who needed some tanning. Ralph Bellamy is also in the cast. "The Eleventh Commandment" features Theodore Von Eltz and Allan Hale.

Broadway: Closed.

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS &amp; SOUNDS

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Blue-eyed Jeanette Loff of the golden hair can always wonder what would have happened to her screen career had she followed her desire and made her screen debut some six years ago as "Jan Lov".

Jeanette is Scandinavian by descent, her mother, Norwegian and her father Danish. The family name once was Lov, and Jeanette as a child was called Jan.

It was as Jan Lov that she played the organ in theaters up in Portland, Ore., and sometimes appeared singing in theater prologues, during tauts from school.

But when she came to Hollywood and signed a contract with Cecil B. DeMille, who seems to like American-sounding names, he wouldn't let her be anything but Jeanette Loff.

Sentenced! As Jeanette Loff, of course, she was sentenced to perpetual ingenu roles, which is why, even though she is still Jeanette Loff, she regards her return to films after two years on the stage as a turning point. The picture is "Mating Time," and she plays a country girl who goes bad.

"She turns out all right in the end," smiles Jeanette, sitting on the cream and blue davenport in her own idea, incidentally—"but what a change for me after playing so many nice girls! And they chose me from 50 other girls tested—do you suppose Broadway could have done all that for me?"

No More Roles

Mrs. Loff left Hollywood after surprising everybody by her singing in the Paul Whiteman's screen revue, "The King of Jazz."

She had remained under contract to Universal for several months afterwards, but no more roles were forthcoming.

She went to New York, appeared in musical plays and with orchestras, and recently came back to Hollywood, looking for more pictures. Her return was timed fairly closely with the revival of the Whiteman film, which probably has done better on second release than on its first.

ST. REMY.

St. Remy, Dec. 20.—The Christmas exercises and tree will take place Thursday evening, December 21, at the church at 8 o'clock. The community club will also have a part in the entertainment. The public is invited to attend.

The Men's Club will play dart baseball Friday evening with the Clinton Avenue team at St. Remy.

The cantata that was to take place Sunday, December 24, is postponed until December 31.

The faculty of Kenneth Krom, who was ill the past week, is improving.

Christina, the Christmas Doll

Synopsis: Christina, a doll from Toyland, is rescued by the ice and snow fairies from the One-Legged Giant. She is made invisible by a naughty queen who wanted the doll to go back to her kingdom.

CHAPTER IX THE MAGIC BRACELET

Christina and the fairies were so frightened after the naughty queen left them. The fairies couldn't see the doll, and yet they could hear her talk.

"Well, where's Christina?" asked Santa as the fairies flew into his workshop.

A little snow man. "Just take our hands as you did before, and we'll fly back to Santa for help."

So they flew back to Toyland.

"Well, where's Christina?" asked Santa as the fairies entered.

"Here I am Santa," said the doll.

"What? What's this?" exclaimed Santa. He looked and looked where Christina was standing, but he couldn't see her.

"Dear me, dear me," cried Christina. And the fairies told Santa the sad story. All the toys listened, and then there was such a to-do. They wept and they all tried to see the doll.

Tomorrow: The Queen of Fairies

ZENA.

Zena, Dec. 20.—Weather and slippery roads cannot scare the folks who attend the Reformed Church in Zena. There was a splendid attendance both in Sunday School and for the services. John F. Heidenreich presented a Christmas sermon and the ladies' choir sang "Wherever He Leads I Will Follow," with a solo by Miss Julia Klementie. In the evening the Christian Endeavor held their meeting under the leadership of Fred Thais, with Christian Spirit as the topic.

Next Sunday, Christmas eve, there will be no Sunday School session but the children are all requested to be at church at 10 a. m. and join in a service with the congregation which will begin at 10:30 a. m. In the evening the Christian Endeavor young people invite all folks in the community and also neighboring communities to a special service in the form of a dramatic religious pageant which will be presented by the Christian Endeavor and the choir. "The Coming of the Christ Child," written by Ruth Irwin Rex, is an impressive service with old Biblical setting and a great deal of music. Everybody is most cordially invited to attend.

Another Christmas party of great importance is the school program to be presented at the Zena Country Club on Friday evening, December 22. The children have been working hard under the leadership of their teacher, Miss Florence Hill, to make this a great success. And we have been informed in confidence that Old Santa is going to make a call at the clubhouse that evening, too.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Long and daughters paid a call to Flatbush on Sunday, where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Peterson.

Palmer Carnright, who is staying at Newburgh for a time, was at his home here Sunday.

Albert Holmizer was in New Paltz last Wednesday evening.

OLIVE BRIDGE.

Olive Bridge, Dec. 20.—Services will be at the usual hour in the Olive Bridge M. E. Church Sunday, December 24. The Rev. O. H. Lockett will deliver the usual Christmas message. There will be special selections rendered by the choir. Everyone is most cordially invited to be present.

The Olive Rebeahs will present their Christmas program Thursday evening at the I. O. O. F. Hall.

Bounced a Jug Over Another Man's Head

Ernest Terrell, a negro of Steep Rock, was jailed and William Banks, another negro, was treated at the Kingston Hospital for a gash in his head when Terrell bounced a stone jug on Banks' head. This morning, Banks appeared in police court with his head bandaged to press a charge of third degree assault against Terrell, who entered a plea of guilty and was sentenced to 30 days in the county jail.

Terrell, questioned by Judge Culliton, said that the jug was a stone jug and was empty at the time he hit Banks with it. "Were you standing or sitting down when the jug hit you?" asked the court of Banks. "I was standing up," replied Banks.

The police department responded to a telephone call from Steep Rock early Tuesday evening and when they arrived there Banks placed Terrell under arrest and turned him over to the officers. Banks was taken to the hospital to have his scalp wound dressed.

Action to Recover in Death of Donald Kolb Continued in Court

Sagittarius Action Brought in Recovery in Death of Kolb. Who Was Killed in Auto Which Struck Parked Truck.

Plaintiff rested shortly before noon today in the negligence action brought by Thomas E. Kolb as administrator in an action for damages against Mason Millers. The action is brought to recover for the death of Donald Kolb on January 27 when a car in which he was riding struck a parked truck of defendant near the old Red House on the Saugerties road.

Two witnesses testified at the morning session that they passed the truck shortly before the accident and saw no lights on the truck and no one in the vicinity. James McCabe, chauffeur, was coming to Kingston with his employer, Chris Bambach of Saugerties. At about 7:05 that evening he testified he was driving near the site of the Red House and came suddenly upon the parked truck. He said it was on the right strip of concrete. His lights were deflected at the time and he was close when he saw the truck. He swerved to the left and his front fender passed under the rear of the body of the truck, under the overhang. He stopped his car abreast of the cab of the truck and noticed there were no lights on the truck. There was no person in the vicinity and he went on after a stop of a couple of minutes. All four wheels of the truck were on the concrete. He was positive there were no lights showing to the rear or in front.

Mr. Bambach testified as had his chauffeur. The lights of his Packard car shown about 70 feet ahead on the road and it was within that distance that the truck loomed up. He said that he looked for lights and saw none.

Robert Loeffler was the first witness called for the defense. He said he and Millers had been to Ogdensburg with merchandise and were returning home when the car ran out of gas. They coasted to a stop with the front wheel on the right of the concrete and one of the rear right dual wheels on the concrete. At Albany he had lighted the lights on the truck and inspected them and they were all burning. There were the usual headlights, tail light and stop light and a pair of green lights in front on the cab. On the rear was also a red reflector.

When the car stopped the headlights were on. He left the truck to inspect the motor and was using a flashlight. After the truck had been stopped from ten to fifteen minutes he observed the O'Donnell car coming from the rear. He looked and the lights on the truck were out. He said they had been on but when the car was seen to come from the rear the lights were off. He did not explain how or when they went off. The O'Donnell car was about 300 feet away. He was working under the hood at the time. He waved his flashlight to warn the driver of the car coming up but the car came on and crashed into the truck. Just before the crash he ran across the road after warning Mr. Millers. Next he saw Millers on the pavement and he appeared to be bleeding. At no time did they leave the vicinity of the truck while it stood there. He could not recall seeing any cars or persons pass while the car was there. When the crash came he said the green lights on the front of the truck were on. They operated independently from the other lights. Mr. Loeffler said he had observed there were no lights on the truck just prior to the accident except the green lights in front. When he saw the head and tail lights were out he flashed his light from the left side of the truck back toward the car and over the body of the truck. When the truck was struck it was driven forward 30 feet and off the road against a barn.

It was after Trooper Coons arrived that he crawled under the truck and fastened the stop light so that it remained on and visible from the rear. A disconnected wire under the truck he said had been placed there by himself when he installed a stop light. It was a telephone wire with two wires in the same conduit, only one was needed for the stop light so he left the second wire unattached. It was not necessary to use it. He said the truck had been stopped for 10 or 15 minutes before the crash.

On cross-examination he was asked in regard to testimony which he gave the coroner at an investigation. He said when he said he had alighted from the truck and gone around to the left and was about to lift the hood to make an inspection that such statement was not true. He had lifted the hood and had examined the carburetor and the vacuum tank before the crash. He also said that when he testified before the coroner that the truck had been stopped three or four minutes before the crash that that statement had been untrue. The truck had been stopped 10 or 15 minutes.

He said there were no lights on the rear of the truck just prior to the crash. The case was continued. William D. Brainerd and Roscoe V. Elsworth appear for plaintiff and Andrew J. Cook for the defendant.

Hebrews Bow To Z.N.P.'s; Play The Hellcats Tonight

In the star basketball contest of the program at White Eagle Hall, Tuesday, the Z. N. P. Sporting Club edged out the Hebrew-Americans by the score of 31-29, mainly because Randy Kieffer started dropping them in from all angles in the last stages of the cage battle which was marked by considerable roughness.

Kieffer made 13 points to save his team from going down before the Hebrews, who showed the way at the intermission by the margin of four points, the tally standing 15-11 in their favor. M. Basch starred for the losers.

Tonight the Hebrews will make a bid for their return to the victorious road by taking on the West Point Hellcats at the Downtown Jewish Community Center. The overtime will be between Holy Cross Girls and Fullers. Dancing will follow the games.

Thursday night the Z. N. P.'s will go to Poughkeepsie for a tussle with the Ebling Brewers.

In the preliminaries last night the Girls' Friendly Five defeated the Z. N. P. Lassies 18-14. Miss Phinney scoring 9 points for the winners and Miss Buboltz 10 for the Polish club, and the Z. N. P. ## Luckies Will Oppose Polish A. C. Thursday

Jack Troy's Luckies will try for their fifth consecutive victory Thursday night when they line up against the Polish A. C. of Poughkeepsie, a club which recently showed very good form in trimming "Dolly" Tessio's Z. N. P.'s at White Eagle Hall. A large turnout of fans is expected for the battle, which is scheduled for 8 o'clock.

On the firing line for the Luckies will be the same players who last week turned in the fourth straight win for the club, defeating the highly touted Boiesville C. C. C. Foresters, who have been hitting a fast pace in beating clubs of this vicinity. The list includes Van Deusen, Rhymmer and P. Kelly, forwards; P. Schline, center; Cullum, Husta and D. Kelly, guards.

The Polish A. C. will come to Kingston with Kamper and Delmer, forwards; Babiarz, center; Stock and Waryas, guards; Micholski, reserve.

SPORT SLANTS

By ALAN J. GOULD

(Associated Press Sports Editor.)

Epitaph aside from its accomplishments on the field of battle, Army's 1933 football team has established an extraordinary record as a drawing card at a time when the gridiron sell-out is an exception, rather than the rule.

The Cadets attracted the biggest crowds for all of their major opponents in the east. Their game at Cambridge with Harvard drew the subsequent Yale-Harvard classic. They came closer than any other visitor to filling the big Eli bowl at New Haven. They combined with Navy to bring out the only capacity crowd of the season at Franklin Field, Philadelphia, and they drew New York's biggest turnout for the final game with Notre Dame.

All told, in five games played away from West Point, the Soldiers helped attract over 300,000 cash customers. This included the one financial disappointment of their campaign, the Illinois game at Cleveland, which failed to fill even half the big municipal stadium on the shores of Lake Erie.

The remarkable drawing power of the Cadets and the Fighting Irish, even in an off year for Notre Dame, is one of the reasons why this inter-sectional classic will be on the schedule for some time to come.

Army-Notre Dame games for 1924 and 1925 already have been definitely fixed. There is no doubt about the continuation of the series for an indefinite period, inasmuch as the officials of both schools regard the contest as a natural rivalry.

If there have been any differences of opinion, they have never been serious enough to warrant more than a friendly argument.

Football's Forgotten

While the all-star debate is still on, here's our suggestion for an eleven picked more or less from the "forgotten men" of the college football fields—those lads who toil industriously on the small or off-the-beaten-track college and get scant recognition for it:

Ends—Markel, Carthage (Mo.) and Dittmore, Tennessee Wesleyan; tackles, Meyers, North Dakota State and Swan, Wake Forest (N. C.); guards, Pike, Davis & Elkins and Volok, Tulsa (Okla.); center, Sullivan, Loyola (La.); backs, Stansberry, Montana; Knappner, Ottawa (Kan.); Kent, Murray (Ky.); and Young, Bluefield (W. Va.).

These names may not mean so much now, while all the hullabaloo for the big-time All-Americans is on, but it is just possible a few of these lads will be tossing better advertised opponents for losses on the professional gridirons a year or two hence.

Rooming A. C. Meeting.

There will be a special meeting of the Koenig Athletic Club Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. All members are urged to attend, bringing their books.

Counselors Will Start at Napanoch Sunday Afternoon

St. Mary's Counselors, a team which last season won 35 out of 38 games, has organized for the winter and will start its schedule Sunday afternoon at Napanoch Institution for Defective Delinquents, playing the inmates who have a strong combination, according to the keeper in charge of athletics. He rates the team in the high school varsity class.

On the roster of the Counselors are Jack Kelly, Don Kelly, Phil Kelly, "Hebbie" Maroon, Bob Stenson and Bill Scully. William Jordan is again managing the club. Teams interested in booking it may arrange dates by communicating with him at 113 Spring street.

Stone Ridge Club Plays Casey Five At B. W. S. Tonight

Pete Bruck's Stone Ridge basketballers hope to add another victory to their credit tonight when they clash with Tony Erena's Knights of Columbus team at B. W. S. Hall, High Falls, in a game that is expected to present plenty of action for a crowded house.

Although the Caseys have played only one game, defeating Battery A by a nice margin, they have a very formidable lineup that has been working under the watchful eye of Judge Bernard A. Culliton, former Fordham coach, and are expected to give the Brucks a real test.

In the Casey brigade are Walt Foster, Johnny Banyo, Garrity, Cahill, Erena himself and several others.

Bruck will have Chilson and Van Deusen in the fore court; Knoll at center; Cullum and Wood, guards.

In the preliminary the Stone Ridge Juniors will play the highly touted Kendall Five, starting at 7:45. The main game will get under way at 8:45. Dancing will follow with music by Meisenholder's Commanders.

Port Ewen Swamps Comforter Dart Team

One of the most exciting matches since the opening of the Church Dart Baseball League was played Tuesday night at the court of the Church of the Comforter, where the home club was defeated by the Port Ewen winners in three straight games.

Much credit for the Port Ewen wins went to W. K. Van Vliet who made a number of home runs and to C. D. Van Orden, baseball star.

Scores of the games were as follows:

Game 1 Game 2 Game 3

Port Ewen 12 5 6

Comforters 1 4 5

New York Giants Expects Choice as The Greatest Team

By ALAN GOULD

(Associated Press Sports Editor)

New York, Dec. 20 (AP)—Not entirely satisfied with having produced the outstanding athletic performer of 1933 in Carl Owen Hubbell, the New York Giants emerged from the annual battle of ballots today as the choice of the experts for the greatest team achievement of the year, in any sport.

Newspaper sports editors and writers, registering their opinions in the third annual Associated Press sports poll, unhesitatingly nominated and elected Bill Terry's baseball champions to the honor position on the strength of their triumphant dash to the National League pennant, followed by decisive victory over the Washington Senators in the world series. This accomplishment, noted most observers, stands out as the foremost of any major league team since the Boston Braves shot to the peak in 1914.

Football, Tennis Next

The Giants polled 68 votes out of a total of 193 and won handsily in this year's contest from their two closest rivals—Princeton's all conquering football team and the British Davis Cup forces which trounced the United States and lifted the famous tennis trophy from France. The Tigers received 43 votes in recognition of their sensational renaissance under the direction of Fritz Crisler. The tribute to the tennis combination of Fred Perry and Bunny Austin was represented by 27 votes.

Football naturally covered the widest range of opinion in the balloting on the subject of outstanding team performers. Michigan's Big Ten champions finished fourth in the standing with 14 votes. Army's followers lost some of their enthusiasm after the Cadets fell victim to Notre Dame's last roundup but there were eight ballots for West Point nevertheless. Stanford, for its triumph over Southern California, and Iowa, for a brilliant comeback under Ossie Solem, received strong endorsements.

Other Prominent Teams

Other standout teams, in the judgment of the nation's jury of sports observers, included Louisiana State's track and field squad, N. C. A. A. champions; Washington's varsity crew; Oregon State's football "Iron Men"; and Western's all-star polo team which beat the East at Chicago.

Complete results of the team voting follows:

New York Giants, world baseball champions	68
Princeton's undefeated and untied football team	45
British Davis Cup tennis team	27
Michigan, football	14
West Point, football	14
Louisiana State, track and field	8
Stanford, football victory over U. S. C.	6
Oregon State, football "Iron Men"	4
Western All Stars, polo	4
Columbia, football	3
Washington varsity rowing	3
Washington Senators, baseball	2
Iowa, football	2
New York Rangers, hockey	2

One vote each for following: Harvard varsity crew; Chicago Bears (pro football); British Ryder Cup golf team; Michigan State cross-country team; Yale basketball team; and Tulsa Oilers, basketball.

Sweet Shops

The name "sweet shop" characterizes the manufacture of goods for the market in tenement houses and dwelling houses in the city. The unusual feature in the system is the performance of work on materials belonging to the employer in the premises of the worker at extremely low wages and under unsanitary conditions.
